Letter distributed without Driscoll's name and addressed "To whom it may concern" which reads in part: "This is to warn all who attended the Wake and the Memorial for our long-time comrade Edward Spira, that apparently at least one political police agent also was in attendance and that it appears there may be attempts by the political police to use, for their own ends, contacts made in Ed's name. Because of protofascist Federal laws now in effect this warning cannot be more specific." It apparently caused quite a stir among P & F members.

73. DRISCOLL, Robert Bruce. One-page SIGNED Letter Reproduced from Typescript & Dated March 11, 1987. No place (Oakland?): Self-published, 1987. 8 1/2 x 11 in. Broadside. Fine. $37.50

Letter addressed to members of the Peace & Freedom Party about an earlier (November 17, 1984) letter (a Xerox copy of which he has attached) he had circulated about an unnamed "political police agent" who had attended the "Wake and the Memorial for our long-time comrade Edward Spira." Apparently his original letter aroused considerable concern among the the other comrades. In his new missive Driscoll assures them that he had never seen this alleged agent at any Peace & Freedom function before or after and that "therefore no one who attended any P & F Party Alameda County meeting before or after the memorial meetings was referred to by my letter of November 17, 1984."

This document is said to be an "independent Marxist Leninist defense of the line of the Continuations Committee on homosexuality." The author attempts to set forth the "material basis for the exclusion of homosexuals from the party building movement" by providing a "proletarian analysis of the question What is Homosexuality?" It seems that it "first arose among the slaveholding class" and throughout history has been associated with the ruling classes. "Homosexuality denies the evolutionary, biological and historically necessary relationship between men and women, and replaces love and comradeship between the sexes with antagonism and hatred. While on the one hand homosexuality is a product of the ruling class, a degenerate form of recreation resulting from male supremacist ideology and the oppression of women, on the other hand contemporary homosexuality is also a reaction to the general decadence of society and the ruthless oppression of dying capitalism which produces personal relations which are equally ruthless and oppressive ... In relation to the party, the revolutionary vanguard of the proletariat, there is no room for homosexual opportunism."
